

Dr. Pendl & Dr. Piswanger Albania, the Human Resources Consulting Company, very successful in Albanian market since 2001, branch of Dr.Pendl & Dr.Piswanger GmbH in Vienna, is currently looking on behalf of our client located in Austria for an experienced professional for the position of :

Embedded Firmware Developer

Main Responsibilities:

- Development and maintenance of our embedded firmware software
- Testing and improving of the embedded firmware (e.g. control loops) and create documentations
- Development and maintenance of drivers
- Develop to and ensure compliance to customer requirements
- Support of internal and external stakeholders including production development
- Definition and compliance to applicable software standards
- Responsible for the development of the firmware ensuring compliance to applicable standards and requirements

Our embedded firmware software is ATMEL AVR8 in C/C++ for microcontrollers

Your profile:

- Master's degree in computer science or electrical engineering
- Experience 3 years plin the field of embedded software development (like Arduino)
- Experience with quality control of software
- Experience with low-level hardware access (peripheral components, sensors, etc)
- Proficiency in low-level programming, Phython, C/C++
- Fluent in English

Location: Austria

Our client is providing allocation support for candidates from Albania and their families, in cooperation with regional government institutions for making your integration easy not only professionally but also from social point of view.

Interested professionals are invited to send their professional resume until 31 July 2022 to the following e-mail address: aplikime@pendlpiswanger.al

